

LOCAL — Low Carbon Alpine Lifestyles

Final Event (11-13th October 2019)

DAY

- Liechtenstein group visited Regional museum in Maribor
- Presentation of local projects in form of improvised theatre (talk within groups of what they want and how to show and then perform!)

LOCAL PROJECTS

- Idrija: turning parking space in playground for one day
- Schaan: making raised beds, planting vegetables and organising a public grillparty with this vegetables
- Tolmin: making a vertical garden and printing waterbottles for re-use, with a self-made logo for the whole school

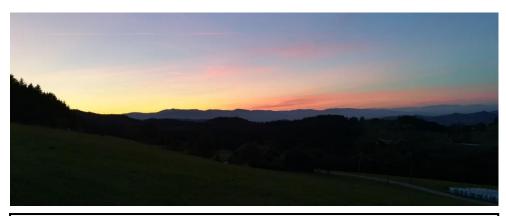

- Tasting local food from Liechtenstein, Slovene and French snacks
- Evening walk in groups of three What did we learn, what can we improve? Think, define, write down, share

EVENING WALK

- The best and the worst moment
- The AHA moment (when something became completely clear, when you learned something you find important)
- How was the communication in your group?
- What was the most demanding situation with which you had to deal with and how did you solve it?
- Did you find out you have some attributes that were helpful or some that you could improve?
- Did you meet your expectations from January about this project? If not, why?

MARIBOR

- Visit of an urban garden; English translation of the tour provided by the participant (photo on the right)
- Lunch (Slovene traditional food)
- Luka Lubi about youth work at the municipality
- Free time

- Everyday commitments How can I lower my CO₂ footprint? Writing our personal goals down
- Evening free time and socialising

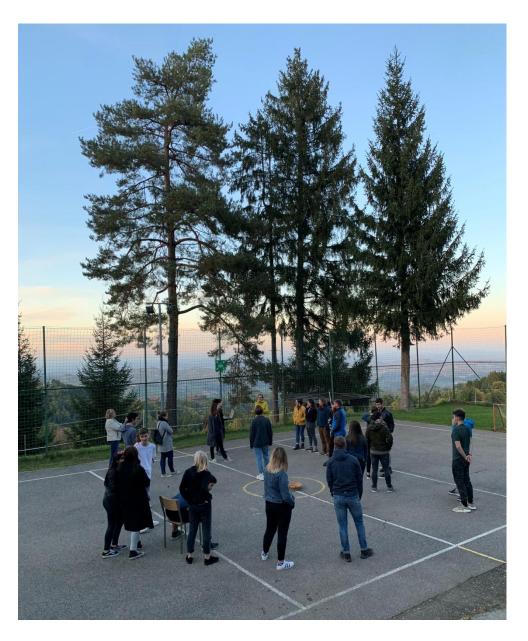

EVERYDAY COMMITMENTS

By standing right or left we expressed how much we agree with ... and then explain why.

- I would like to live in the mountains
- I am afraid for the future
- I consider my nutrition respectful for the environment
- In order to take care of the environment I can renounce to a beef / coffee / chocolate
- I can easily find organic / local food
- My carbon impact is reasonable
- We are too many on the planet
- I already bought second hand clothes
- I have a car
- Last time I went to the mountains I went by car
- I took once / twice / three times the plane this year
- It is easy for me to use the public transport/bike
- I skied in a ski resort this year
- Living in the mountains is helpful to feel closer to the nature
- Practicing sports in the mountains disturbs the nature
- I feel part of the Alps

- Youthpass what is it, how and what to write
- What now? playing with ideas of how to continue with local projects, then focus and think of possible next steps

• Evaluation – outside and on paper

YOUTHPASS

- Fills each participant by themselves
- Giving them some ideas of skills, they probably got during the project
- Time for themselves to think and write down, what applies to them
- Talk in pairs, exchange their opinions
- Invite them to finish their Youthpass at home online

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT?

- Idrija: Station for e-bikes in front of the centre, playground every Friday, sledding from the centre
- Schaan: Preparing the soil, meeting our "Pro" & discuss next planting, make meeting regular again, discuss what happens in winter, maybe invite more youngsters, creating more raised beds
- Tolmin: give re-usable bottles to new students every year, instead of just drinks, put also Cedevita powder bags in vending machine

With the international meeting in Maribor/SI the project LOCAL (Low Carbon Alpine Lifesyles), funded by erasmus+, LLB Zukunftsstiftung and LIKFE Klimastiftung and coordinated by CIPRA Int. and Alpine Town of the year went to its end.

The teenagers did great projects during the summer with the support of their youth workers and teachers and could now exchange experiences. They turned parking slots into playground, installed a vertical garden, built a raised bed garden and started a waterbottle campaign.

With ideas how to continue with the projects the youngsters went home satisfied, happy having met each other again.
